

Community Social Planning Council

The Social Development Centre Waterloo Region (SDC) is a non-government, public benefit community leader committed to promoting social development in Waterloo Region. With a mission to advance community through active participation and objective knowledge, SDC works to achieve its vision for a healthy, fair and sustainable community where all can participate in finding solutions.

Structure of the Social Development Centre Waterloo Region

From its very beginnings, SDC has relied on advisory and action groups to get community input and to provide guidance for community projects and initiatives.
